

NETWORKING+

REACH YOUR TARGET AUDIENCE

Written for communications, network, IT and Data Centre professionals, Networking+ offers an in-depth look at voice and data networking across fixed and wireless LANs, MANs and WANs, through the eyes of both public and private sector enterprise users. By delivering your message via the publication, e-newsletter, website and social followers, Networking+ offers a unique, 'one-stop' media combination.

Using these platforms will put your brand, products and services in front of more than 20,000 potential and existing customers, a community that specifies, influences and approves the purchase of voice & data products and services for increasingly complex enterprise, campus, national and international networks.
